Two Pennsylvania Declarations.

There is something ludicrous in the threat that it was a Republican State Convention in Pennsylvania which was called to order by Russell Errett and over which John Cessna temporarily presided that adopted the following as one of its declarations of principles: "Faithful execution of the laws; an economical administration of the Government; integrity in office; honesty in all branches of the Government; a rigid accountability of public officers." This, though, is only what the followers of Cameron, Cessna and Errett profess to be in favor of; and it will not escape observation that if the Republican party, in nation and State, had exhibited all those admirable qualities which the party in Pennsylvania now protest it favors there, would have been no occasion for such a declaration as the one we have quoted. No doubt that declaration, when read, was hailed with yells and demonstrations of approval by the assembled delegates; and why? Not because the administration of the National and State Governments has been exceptionable, but because in both cases it has been justly and vigorously assailed for lacking in those particulars which are pronounced so desirable. Not having the substance to make much over, the Pennsylvania Republicans exult over the shadow they obtain in their sententious declaration. It is worth while to note briefly what has been the practice as contrasted with the professions now put forward. It the nation "faithful execution of the laws" has been a term nearly synonothous with proscription and persecution of opinion's sake. The testimony of Republicans in the Spencer case shows that the laws were executed with a vengeance in Alabama, and this has been the case in nearly every Southern State. Men have been dragged from their homes and subjected to indignity and persecution that such scalawags as Spencer might obtain political advancement. "An economical administration" of the National Government under Grant has resulted in unprecedented expenditures in various departments; "integrity in office" is shown in the extent to which frauds of all kinds have been practiced—in the fraudulent mail contracts, made with the connivance of Government officials, in illicit distillation, engaged in under the eyes of those whose duty it is to guard the revenue, in shameless violation of the customs laws, in the jobbery in dealing with the Indians, and in the numerous plundering raids which have been successfully made upon the National Treasury. "Honesty in all branches of Government!" That would indeed be very desirable, but the country has not had it since the Republican party has been in power. Nor have public officers been held to a rigid accountability for their conduct. In some cases officers who have disregarded law have been honored with marks of approval, as in the case of Richardson, and the officers who have been in the league with the swindlers of the Government have not as yet suffered severely. One or two men have been dismissed from the civil service and one or two have been requested to resign; and this is about all which has been done.

Of a piece with the declaration quoted above is the following equally sententious one: "Honest men in office—men with brains enough to know dishonesty when they see it, and courage to fight it wherever they find it." These are unquestionably the kind of men the people want in office, but they have not been the kind the Republican party has given the country. Messrs. Bristow and Jewell have unearthed some frauds, but how is it their predecessors failed? Was it from dishonesty or lack of brains? The declaration naturally invites reminiscences and comparison. Why call for honest men with brains if they have held office before? But perhaps the Pennsylvania Republicans have taken this method of aiming a sly blow at Delano. This, if nothing else, will explain their call for honest men with brains. Will Grant take the hint?—Detroit Free Press.

OUR RAILROAD.—The prospects now are favorable to the opening once more of that portion of the California Pacific Railroad which will eventually connect us with tide-water at Vallejo. The road between this place and Sutter Station, a distance of eight miles, will be put in complete order as soon as workmen can do it, and it is not unreasonable to predict that before another year the iron horse will go snorting through our city on its passage to the sea. Our neighbor has the following concerning it: "The Central Pacific Railroad Company, having decided to take no hand in Geo C. Gorham's little game, find more time and ready money to devote to their legitimate business, and as a starter of this new departure, they have given orders to at once fix up the California Pacific Railroad from Marysville to Sutter Station. To-day the work will be begun, and on the 12th of July the stockholders are to have a meeting at the Secretary's office in San Francisco, where action will be taken as to the the permanent rebuilding of that portion of the road between Knights Landing and Sutter Station. From the information we have received, we predict that before another year has come and gone, the Vallejo route between this city and San Francisco will be in full operation for both freight and passenger traffic. If our heavy men have any interest in having this road rebuilt, now is a favorable opportunity to extend some encouragement towards getting right of way, in order to enable the company to make one central depot for all their business, which may not only be an advantage to them, but an ornament to our city. The rebuilding of this road would doubtless tend to largely increase the business of every merchant in this city. Two railroads and a regular line of steamers ought to greatly increase the importance of Marysville as a desirable business point for the present large emigration from the Atlantic and Western States.—Sutter Banner, June 19.

PRINCIPLES VS. SPITE.—The difference between the Democratic party and the Independents, on the railroad question, is simply this—one is acting on principle and the other from spite. The National and State history of the Democratic party proves it to be the champion of the people against the encroachments of the moneyed power. Thomas Jefferson made this a fundamental principle in the Democratic creed; President Jackson illustrated and exemplified it in his contest with the United States Bank; Governor Haight was the first to raise the issue with Stanford & Co. in this State, and the Democrats endorsed him, and the Call, Bulletin and Independent leaders joined hands with Stanford and the corruptionists in striking him down. The leaders and newspapers of the Independent party of to-day were formerly the fast friends and apologists of the Central Pacific Railroad Company. Even Booth stood by it in the State Senate, voted for its subsidies, and grew rich off of its business patronage. So, too, with the Sacramento Union, the Call and Bulletin. They were friends and champions of that company, and found it a powerful ally, always in opposition to the Democratic party and Democratic candidates. Then came a personal quarrel between Stanford and these men he had been using, and from this has arisen and grown up the Independent party of California. It is the spawn of a row between a gang of plunderers and its leaders to-day stand on no higher ground than personal spite. The Democratic party, on the other hand, rest their cause upon unchanging principles. They present no new doctrine. Hostility to the demands of such corporations as the Central Pacific is, and always has been, part and parcel of the Democratic creed.—S. F. Post.

TO MAKE HOME HAPPY.—Nature is industrious in adorning her dominions, and man, to whom this beauty is addressed, should feel and obey the lesson. Let him, too, be industrious in adorning his domain—in making his home, the dwelling of his wife and children, not only convenient and comfortable, but pleasant. Let him, as far as circumstances will permit, be industrious in surrounding it with pleasant objects, in decorating it within and without with things that tend to make it agreeable and attractive. Let industry make home the abode of neatness and order—a place which brings satisfaction to every inmate, and which, in absence, draws back the heart by the fond associations of comfort and content. Let this be done, and this sacred spot will become more surely the scene of cheerfulness and peace. Ye parents who would have your children happy, be industrious to bring them up in the midst of a pleasant, a cheerful and a happy home. Waste not your time in accumulating wealth for them; but plant in their minds and souls, in the way proposed, the seeds of virtue and prosperity.

Tweed's Release.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Times says: "Public opinion was not very much startled by the extraordinary character of Tweed's sentence, because it was obvious its severity did not transcend the gravity of his crimes against society; but the judgment of the people will none the less applaud the vigor and justice with which the Court of Appeals has vindicated the claims of the law to be protected against judicial straining, even in an apparently good cause. There is no principle more necessary to maintain free communities than that of implicit respect for the simple and literal interpretation of the law. If the law failed to provide a penalty adequate for the offences of Tweed, that was a very good reason for amending the law, not for twisting it to meet the demands of an unprecedented case."

The Tribune says: "So far as Tweed himself is concerned, there is less reason to lament the issue of the case than might at first sight be supposed. His discharge from the Penitentiary does not imply restoration to freedom. He will be re-arrested on a civil process before he leaves the Island, and there is not the slightest probability of his obtaining three millions bail. He must go to jail to await the suits for the recovery of the stolen money. There are other indictments against him which perhaps may be tried. For the present he merely steps from one cell to another, and pays a good round price for the change. If he is ever restored to free air and sunshine he will probably find himself a beggar, his home despoiled, his old associates scattered, and his friends ashamed to own him."

The World says: "The Judges assert the sacredness of the writ of habeas corpus, and the absolute paramount necessity for avoiding any action that tends to breaking down the elaborate safeguards that the law throws around a prisoner and the citizen. It is the old maxim that a rogue should go free rather than that the innocent, possibly, should suffer; that it is not wise in order to do great good to do a little wrong, and twist the law to our authority."

The Herald says: "The decision will give a painful shock to the popular sense of justice. The twelve years for which Tweed was sentenced was a punishment not disproportioned to the deep turpitude of his offence. The sentence is adjudged illegal, but the Court will be thought rather to have condemned the law than freed the prisoner from the hardships of an unjust sentence. They have, no doubt, done their duty. The elaborate opinion in which they have set forth the grounds of this decision will command the assent of the legal profession."

STOREY ON TRANSFUSION.—General Frank P. Blair's rescue from the jaws of death, as it were, by the simple process of the transfusion of blood, says the Chicago Times, suggests unlimited possibilities for the improvement of the human race. The doctors report that Gen. Blair, after each infusion, partook largely of the nature of the person from whom the supply of blood was drawn. For instance, when he received a supply of the life fluid from the arm of a healthy young man who, unknown to the physicians, had been on a small spree the day before, the General immediately became very drunk. This shows that great care must be exercised in the selection of the blood supply. But with this precaution observed what a vast amount of good may be accomplished among our public men. Take the case of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher to begin with. A pious monk should be found in some secluded cloister, whose reputation for sanctity is unassailable, and Mr. Beecher's veins should be filled periodically with the cool blood of the anchorite. The blood of a gentleman should be infused into the veins of Ulysses S. Grant. For Zach Chandler, a teetotaler, with an undoubted character for sobriety, should be found, and found right away. For Matt Carpenter, the same man who did duty for Beecher would serve, unless the strain on him was too great. The blood of almost anybody would make an improvement in John A. Logan. A modest man should be selected for Murat Halstead, even though it be necessary to scrape the country with a fine tooth comb to find him. And so on to the end of the chapter. The medical profession and the people at large will learn that this transfusion of blood is a big thing. There's millions in it.

SWEET GIRL GRADUATES.—A Cincinnati writer says, apropos of school commencements: "To our minds there is no sight more charming than the bevy of fair maidens in raiment as white as snow, with the smooth or braided hair, with here and there in exquisite taste a blue or pink or a red ribbon, like the morning sun upon the Jungfrau, gilding the white and with opalescent hues bedecking the Winter. The young girls stand upon the dais with, as Burk said of General Conway, "hope elevating and joy brightening their crest;" and so continue the sense, if not the words of the quotation, their faces in that dawn of their release from pupilage and task masters and task mistresses gleam not infrequently with a light almost angelic. They have completed their studies, they have run the race which was appointed them, they have reached the goal, and each one of them with music or essay in hand has won the prize striven for in so many hours of anxious study. But there is something beyond all this; the "girl graduates" at the commencement so anxiously longed for have a harder battle to fight than any they have fought yet. America prides herself upon her chivalrous devotion to womanhood, but tares are sown among the wheat, and thistles are apt to bristle among the flowers. When the sweet voices are heard in the coming commencement exercises, opening the gate, as they do, to a new life redolent with hope, may they be prophetic of future happiness! May the path of the girl graduates be strewn with flowers, and after years realize all the innocent hopes with which they leave the school to enter into the world.

A SUGGESTIVE ITEM.—A New York paper publi hed the follo ing item a few days ago; "Captain Percy, of the black Mendota, which recently arrived at Portland, Maine, from Barbadoes, tells the following story: When off Barbadoes, one bright night in April, all hands were astonished by seeing a large meteor rush through the sky and strike another meteor or planet. The star that was struck instantly caught fire, and blazed up with so bright a light as to illuminate the whole heavens, burning brightly from 7 o'clock, the time it struck, till midnight when the flams were extinguished, leaving no trace of the star." perhaps these few lines contain the sole account of the catastrophe of a world. We do not recall such another instance of the collision being actually perceived, but it is well known that several stars have been observed to take fire and burn up (or out), and that in more than one case a star of some magnitude has, after passing through a process of conflagration, issued in the condition of our moon, a cold, lifeless, burned out mass. There seems no reasonable doubt that such will be the ultimate fate of the globe we inhabit, and it is within the bounds of probability that ages hence mariners sailing over the seas of a distant star may witness, as this marine captain appears to have done, he impact of an enormous meteor upon our surface, the bursting forth of the final fires, the rapid deflagration and the consequent extinction of this planet. Nor have we the least justification for supposing that a catastrophe so pregnant with misfortune for the animals we call the human race, would to any appreciable extent interfere with the order of the universe. Sacramento Record.

WARREN'S SWORD.—There is considerable discussion in the Boston newspapers, as to the whereabouts of the sword used by General Warren at the battle of Bunker Hill. Howard C. Dunham states that his grandfather, Captain Cornelius Dunham had in his possession for forty-seven years, a sword which he purchased from a British officer, who claimed to have taken it from General Warren as the latter lay dead on the field of battle. Mr. Dunham says that he had supposed until recently, that the sword was deposited with the Bunker Hill Association, but he finds that it is not, nor with the Massachusetts Historical Society. In response to this, a member of the Warren family, J. Collins Warren, states that he family has had in its possession for a great many years a sword belonging to General Warren which has always been styled "The Sword of Bunker Hill," and to have been the very weapon carried by the General in the battle in which he lost his life.

ABANDONMENT OF AN OLD CHURCH.—The last services were held yesterday in the First Baptist Church, on Washington street, near Stockton. The church has been established for twenty-five years, and the building forms one of the oldest landmarks in San Francisco. For a long time past the neighborhood has been infested by the Chinese, causing the congregation of the church to rapidly diminish, until the trustees concluded to sell the property and build a new edifice in a more desirable locality. A Chinese company at last became the purchasers, for $80,000, and the building will, it is said, be converted into a Joss house and Chinese lodging establishment. The society will almost immediately commence on the erection of a new church on Eddy street, near Jones. Yesterday morning Rev. E. B. Hulburt preached an interesting sermon on "Our New Departure," and in the evening he again occupied the pulpit in company with the Revs. C. A. Buckbee, Byron Aldrich, Mr. McLean, of the Brooklyn Church; Mr. Dion, Japanese missionary; and others. The auditorium was well filled. After the usual devotional exercises, Mr. Peter Craig, Treasurer of the society, explained how and why the building had been sold. The property, he said, should have brought $45,000, but they were compelled to sell for $30,000. After the debts were paid there would be $13,000 left. Mr. Craig added a few remarks about the decrease of property values in the locality, stating that a house which he built some years ago and rented for $100 a month, now rents for $30. Speeches were also made by B. H. Freeman, Superintendent of the Sunday School, Deacon Owens, of the Metropolitan Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Alexander, Rev. John F. Buckbee and others. The meeting closed with prayer, singing and the benediction.

AMERICAN HEROISM.—The Centennial celebrations all over the country will teach us this also, that in the final consecrating grace of any scene upon the globe—namely, the display of the highest human heroism—our own soil is as rich as any upon which the sun shines. Hawthorn, who lived in Concord, bewailed the want of romantic suggestion in this country, yet afterward, in his "Septimius Felton," he showed that his own quiet village and its famous day were as full of romantic and moving incident as any spot or time in history. Where, in any annals, is there a more striking and poetic story than that of the midnight march to Concord, and the country rising behind the invader? What element of romance is wanting to the scene of Ethan Allen entering the fortress whose name of Ticonderoga is full of resounding music, and which is set amidst every picturesque charm of landscape, and summoning the surrender in the name of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress? Even the tender grace of Philip Sydney's pure devotion in handing the cup of water to the dying soldier is emulated by the reply of the young man mortally stricken upon a battle field of the late war, who refused to allow his comrade to leave the gun to give him a drop of water. If America is not classic ground, there is none. If our own story does not inspire the imagination, imagination has expired.—Harper's Mag.

THE $30,000 PURSE—FOREIGN HORSES.—A. J. Bryant, President of the Pacific Jocky Club, has been notified by telegraph that a noted Australian turfman, Mr. Bowers, intends to start for this city this week with two of the best Sydney race horses, which he proposes to enter for the $30,000 four mile race to be given by the club next Fall. One of them, named Jump, is a very fast horse, of great endurance, has beaten everything that has contested with him in the Colony, and latterly had to be handicapped in order to get a race. The other is also a fast and game nag, but his prowess has not been fully demonstrated. The Sydney horses are recognized by turfman as among the best in the world for long races, and trouble is apprehended from these two by our horsemen. W. H. Shear, who was sent to England by the Jockey Club, to import an English racer for this great contest, writes to Mr. Bryant that there are any number of fast horses for sale, but he finds great difficulty in inducing the owners to send out a horse on their own account. This he desires to do, believing that by this means a better horse will be obtained than by purchase.

PATIENT LABOR.—It is stated in Les Mondes that one of the wealthiest English velvet manufacturers, Mr. Listar, worked his way to success by years of patient labor in search of a way to utilize silk rags. He began by buying up all such waste at less than a cent a pound, and up to the year 1864 he had expended the immense sum of over 1,300,000 in fruitless efforts to find a process. Nothing daunted, however, he continued his experiments, and within the past ten years has discovered a method of converting such refuse into velvet of the finest quality. He now carries on this industry in England, in an establishment which employs some 4,000 work men, and hundreds of travelers are also employed whose sole business is to buy up the silk waste, and this they do in all parts of the globe. The factory is said to have cost nearly $3,000,000.

THE PALACE HOTEL.—Now nearing completion in San Francisco, is the largest hotel structure in the world. It covers 96,250 square feet of ground, and is seven stories high; 24,661,000 bricks were used in its walls; 3,000 tons cast and wrought iron, and 4,561,524 feet of lumber and timber. It contains 1,660 windows, 377 of which are bay-windows; 926 rooms, none of less size than 16 by 16 feet, and 388 bath rooms. It contains over three miles of halls; there are five passengers elevators, and seven grand stairways; there are 4,540 doors, 9,000 gas burners, and 32 miles of gas and water pipe. It requires 50,000 yards or 28 miles of carpet. It can accommodate 1,200 guests, besides 260 servants and employees. And best of all there is not a dark or windowless room in the house.

CALIFORNIA.—Mr. A. B. Venable, who recently visited California, concludes a communication to a Richmond (Va.) paper as follows: "In conclusion, what is it that California lacks to make her the most desirable to live in of all regions? We can think of nothing. She has the climate, the soil, the products, the minerals, and a brave and enterprising population. Her towns and cities are expanding, her lands are being taken up and reduced to culture, her commerce and her manufactories are keeping pace with her immense production. Who can fortell the future or picture the magnitude of her wealth and power in days to come? The day is at hand when, within her own limits, can be produced almost every article that conspires to the living and well-being of man in civilized society."

JOURNALISM.—Rowell's forthcoming Newspaper Directory, shows the failure of over 1,000 newspapers in this country during the past year, and the loss to publishers, subscribers and advertisers amounts to over $8,000,000, the Republic, of New York, alone losing half a million. Among those who went into the newspaper business and lost heavily thereby were 275 merchants and adventurers, 315 school teachers, 57 lawyers, 4 blacksmiths, 33 plasterers, 10 farmers, 200 fanatics of various classes, afflicted with literary lesion, 100 ambitious young men who drew upon their fathers, and thus suddenly exhusted large margins of the parental capital, and six lottery men.

A MUSICAL CLOCK.—What ridiculous things occur sometimes at funerals! For instance, on one of these solemn occasions there was in the house of the defunct an old-fashioned clock, which, when it finished the announcement of the meridian hour, was made to play a tune. The officiating minister was in the midst of his sermon when, noon having arrived, the clock commenced striking twelve. In a very solemn tone he impressed upon his hearers the inevitable flight of time; but the exhortation was evidently ineffective, as the clock instantly followed with the cheery old notes of "Take your time, Miss Lucy!"

LITTLE KIND HEART.—One very cold, stormy morning, a little girl of two years was standing on a chair near a window, looking at a few people who were hurrying along through the mud and rain. "There is a poor little dog, he has no umbrella to keep the rain from wetting his shaggy coat," said her mother. "I'll lend him mine, mamma." "But he has no hands; he can't carry an umbrella," her mother replied, wishing to know what her little daughter's active and ever fertile mind would willingly suggest. "I'll wide him, mamma; I'll get on his back," the little tongue quickly answered.

REVERSED. — The Bee thinks—and so do most people—that if Bidwell and Pacheco's names were reversed, it would make the Independent ticket much stronger.

THE BEECHER CASE.—This case was submitted to the jury on Wednesday, and immediately thereafter affidavits were presented to the Court by plaintiff's counsel for re-opening the case on newly discovered evidence.

THE SCHOONER Mary Hart from Fisk's Mill, arrived at Vallejo on the 12th inst. with a cargo of 50,000 feet of lumber and 2500 fence posts; also the schooner Amazon from the same place on the 18th, with a cargo of 50,000 feet of lumber and 1800 posts for R. H. Newton & Co.

STEAMSHIP LOST. — By Telegraph from Victoria, B. C., an account is given of the total loss of the U. S. man-of-war Saranac, in Johnson's Strait on the 18th inst. She carried 10 guns and 300 men. No lives lost. The vessel struck a rock and was afterwards run ashore where it went to pieces.

CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS.—The Independents of the Second Congressional District have nominated Chas. A. Tuttle, of Alameda, for Congress. In this (Third District) Chas F. Reed, of this county, was nominated by the same party for Congress. We congratulate Mr. Reed upon being favored with the doubtful honor of a nomination when there is no possible chance of his election.

NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.—We have received, from the publishers, Geo. P. Rowell & Co., 41 Park Row, N. Y., a copy of the "American Newspaper Directory" for 1875. This large volume contains a full list of all the newspapers in the United States. It is the most complete work of the kind ever published. General advertisers should avail themselves of the advantages afforded by this book of finding the best possible means of making their business known to the general public.

THE INDEPENDENT CANDIDATES.—The Independent State Convention made yesterday the following nominations: For Governor, John Bidwell, of Butte; Lieutenant Governor, R. Pacheco, of San Luis Obispo; Secretary of State, William Koush, of Placer; Controller, L. E. Crane, of Sierra; Surveyor General, Edward Twichell, of Sacramento; Treasurer, F. Baehr of Shasta; Attorney-General, P. Van Clief, of Yuba; Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. M. Guinn, of Los Angeles; Clerk of the Supreme Court, Paul Morrill, of Sacramento.

NEW PATENTS.—Through dispatches to Dewy & Co., Patent Agents, S. F., we receive the following advance list of U. S. Patents granted to Pacific Coast inventors, viz: S. Plymale, Portland, Oregon, dynamic wrench; F. P. Burney, San Quentin, Cal., fire escape; P. Castellanos, S. F., (five patents) for manufacture of nitro-glycerine; recovering acids from residuum of nitro-glycerine manufactory; apparatus for recovering acids from the residuum of nitro glycerine manufactory; explosive compounds (two); C. J. Hardee, S. F., lock mortising machine; P. Hinkle, S. F., hydraulic elevator; J. C. Fullinger, Portland, Oregon, wagon brake; J. Quinn, Portland, Oregon, trademark for prepared salmon.

Independent Platform.

The platform of the Independent Party adopted in Convention at Sacramento is outre, independent truly, and a decided curiosity and original in every respect. It ignores all national interests and issues in politics, passes by almost all matters of State interest, but is elaborate and full on questions and disputes affecting the local and municipal government of the city of San Francisco. The convention pledged "the People's Independent party and its nominees throughout the State, to join with the representatives from the city and county of San Francisco, to regulate the Spring Valley Water Company and the Gas Company of that city, to fix the rates of water for the inhabitants, and the gas rates, and the illuminating quality of the same," etc.

We have hertofore supposed that San Francisco had a municipal government of its own, with full powers to deal with and manage the special and local welfare of the city in all this direction, and don't see why they should call upon the whole State to protect them from their rascals. It may be there are numerous rascals there. But it's not our fight. Let the new Independent party throughout the State engage in the scandalous encounter if they want to, and they have. We are willing. We will stand aside and see the fur fly. Great attention was paid to San Francisco in the Independent Convention. The affairs of the town engrossed the mind of the Convention entirely—the balance of the State was scarcely thought of. Magnificent city! It would take a vacaro half-an-hour to gallop around it. It is California, and pretty much the whole of it—except the water and gas works of Peek at Woodland. Why did'nt they put these matters particularly in the platform also. What were Freeman and Judge Johnson doing there? Asleep or numbskulls. We are mad about it—for Peek should have had his orders.

Card from Lieut.-Governor Irwin.

HIS ANSWER TO A BALD FALSHOOD—THE HISTORY OF FARES AND FREIGHTS LEGISTATION.

EDITOR POST:—There appears in the Yolo Mail, a paper published in the town of Woodland, Yolo county, in its issue of the 17th instant, what purports to be a report of an interview between a reporter of said paper and myself. The substance of this fabricated report of a simulated interview—for no interview ever took place between any attache of the newspaper in question and myself—is that at the last session of the Legislature a conspiracy was formed between Mr. Stanford, of the Central Pacific Railway Company, and myself to defeat legislation on the subject of fares and frieghts—that a bargain was entered into between us by which I was to smother and kill the Freeman bill, so called, and he in return was to use the power of the Central Pacific Company in behalf of the Democracy. It is charged that, in pursuance of this bargain, I got up, at the instance and under the direction of Mr. Stanford, the bill reported to the Senate by the Committee on Corporations, and that Mr Stanford dictated what the bill should be, both as to its general outlines and its details. In a word, that it was a bill planned solely in the interest of the Railroad Company. As stated above, no interview ever took place between any person connected with the Yolo Mail and myself. All and singular of the charges against me in said purported interview are maliciously false. I could not have done what is charged on me without being an infamous scoundrel; nor could I have acknowledged what is imputed to me without at the same time writing myself down a stupid and incorrigible fool.

I had no interview with Mr. Stanford or any person or persons in his employ or under his control, during the last session of the Legislature, except such as took place publicly in the meetings of the Committee on Corporations of the Senate, in the presence of the committee, the reporters for the Press, and whomsoever else chose to be present. (With the exception of the first, all the meetings of the committee on railroad matters were open, and every person attended who desired.) Neither Mr. Stanford nor any one in his employ, or under his control, or in any way connected with him, knew that any fares and freights bill was being drafted by myself, while the work of drafting it was in progress, except as he or they may have learned it from the newspapers or from street rumor; nor did he or they know anything more about what the bill would contain prior to its being reported to the committee than did the editor of the Mail or the child unborn. I shall not attempt to characterize here in fitting terms the baseness of the miscreant who wantonly assails character as this publisher of the Mail has done. The "interview" is false and calumnious as a whole, and is false in all its details. As I have deemed it necessary to resort to the columns of your paper to repel the gross libel on myself in the "interview" of the Mail, I shall take the liberty to add a word in relation to my connection with the bills on fares and freights before the last Legislature.

The Freeman bill, so called, passed the Assembly, and, on coming to the Senate, was referred to the Committee on Corporations. Of that Committee I was a member. Stanford and other railroad men asked to be permitted to come before the committee and be heard in opposition to the passage of the Freeman bill. Stanford placed in the hands of the committee, as part of his argument against the bill, the fares and freights schedules of his own roads, and those of most, if not all, of the other roads in the United States; also, the schedules established by the Railroad Commissioners of Illinois for the railways of that State. An examination of these schedules, and particularly of those prepared by the Illinois Commissioners, impressed me vividly with the conviction that the Freeman bill was exceedingly crude and imperfect, and even totally impracticable. I was aware, however, that public sentiment was impatient and inexorable in its demands for a law regulating fares and freights. Moreover I had full faith in the Constitutional power of the Legislature on the subject, and I believe the time had arrived when this power should be exercised. Accordingly, I undertook of my own motion, not at the suggestion of Mr. Stanford—he had always when the matter had come up in the committee denied vehemently and almost rabidly all right of the Legislature to act in the premises—the difficult and onerous task of passing a bill, which I believed would be substantially just to both the people and the railways, and which I hoped would give satisfaction in its results. In this work I was assisted by no one, except Creed Haymond, who, at my request, after all other parts of the bill had been finished, drew the penal clause. The bill as thus drawn, including the penal clause added by Haymond, was presented to the Committee on Corporations. It was adopted by the committee substantially in the form in which it was reported to them, except the section relating to passenger tickets.

The bill, as drawn and reported to the Committee, made all passenger tickets good for a period of six months, and contained no provision against their transfer. In other words, it copied substantially the provisions of the Civil Code on the subject.

Mr. Stanford, when before the Committee, had attacked with great vigor and determination the proposition to make passenger tickets good beyond the particular day for which they might be issued.

I did not consider his objection sufficient, and accordingly had adopted, in drawing the bill, the theory that all tickets should be good for a reasonable length of time from the date of their purchase. He had succeeded, however, in impressing some of the members of the Committee more favorably with his views. They were unwilling to report the bill to the Senate, unless that clause should be modified. Accordingly, it was so modified as to make tickets good for but thirty days, instead of six months, and another clause was added, forbidding the sale of tickets, except by agents of the Company, and providing a penalty therefor. In this form the bill was reported by the committee to the Senate. It is proper to add, that when the bill came up for consideration in the Senate, the clause forbidding the sale of tickets and providing a penalty therefor, was stricken out on my motion.

To all allegations or insinuations that this bill was prepared at the instance, or in the interest, or under the direction, of Stanford, it ought to be a sufficient reply that it was defeated in the Senate by the votes of those who were universally recognized as being in the main in harmony with Stanford on railroad questions. Whether this bill was a good one or not, and whether its practical results, if it had been permitted to become a law, would have been beneficial or otherwise, it is known to all who were in Sacramento when it was before the Senate, that Stanford moved heaven and earth to compass its defeat. W. IRWIN.

Thoughts on the Situation.

The profligate and enormous expenditure of money by the National Administration, the peculation and corruption in office burdening the nation with enormous taxes, has so aroused the people to a sense of their duty that every thinking mind is casting about to find the means of escape from the danger before it is too late, and the fair fabric of our Union is dashed to pieces and an Empire established upon the ruins of the Republic.

And with just that certainty that the needle points to the pole, are we directed to the grand old Democratic party for that palladium into which the reigns of Government can be safely intrusted. With this spirit of confidence prevailing among the masses, and which the delegates to the State Convention should carry into the deliberations of that body, the faithful representation of which will insure harmony, wise conduct and ultimate success to the party and the people. "It is, however, an unavoidable defeat of the Convention system that the delegates, however freshly they may have come from the people, and with whatever fidelity they may preserve the reflection and impress of popular thought on their way to the general gathering, are on their arrival thrown into a turbulent stream of polical manipulation, contending selfish claims, personal conflicts and wire-pulling machinery, through which they are forced to make their passage, leaving behind them at every step some portion of that independence which is the very vital force of true representation; and acquiring in its place more or less of that disturbing and mischievous influence which is responsible for all the blunders which wreck parties, and for all the ill-judged policies which repel the rank and file by their inappropriateness, or by the indication they afford of a controlling element antagonistic to the public welfare." The opportunity now afforded the Democratic party is one fraught with the highest importance to the nation, for there has never been a time when the delegates to a Democratic State Convention could less afford to ignore the will of the people, or subordinate the welfare of the party to the dictates of interested managers.

For these reasons we urge upon the County Convention which will assemble here to-morrow, to send as delegates to the State Convention the best and purest men of the party, without instructions to vote for this man or that, but with the full determination and purpose to select the very best men of the party for standard bearers, requiring of each of them only the old Jacksonian qualification for office: "Is he honest? Is he capable?" and with such a ticket we can enter the contest with the assurance of a triumphant success in every department, and our prices as low as any house in the State for the same class of goods. We handle none but what we know to be FIRST-CLASS ARTICLES, and always keep the latest improved Machines, which are known to be good and preferable to the older styles.

MOWERS!

We introduce to the Farmers of the Pacific Coast, for the season of 1875, the celebrated

"Meadow King" Mower.

This Machine we have selected from among some twenty-five machines inspected personally by our Manager last Fall throughout the Eastern States, and we find it to possess the great features most needed in California and Nevada, viz., Simplicity, strength and Durability.

While it possesses all the good features of the "Buckeye," it has some others that make it far superior; and we feel confident in introducing it that we will meet the want of all Farmers for the BEST MACHINE for the least money. It is not a new and untried machine, but one which has stood high throughout the East for the last seven years. ☞ Send for special circular.

HEADERS!

We shall have for 1875 the Genuine Haines' Header.

Improved especially for us, and would ask all desiring to purchase to look at once before doing so. It will well pay them to do it.

TAYLOR'S WHEEL RAKES,
BUCKEYE SELF-DUMPING WHEEL RAKE,
REVOLVING RAKES,
(WILCOX & BARNES.)

THRESHERS and ENGINES.

GOLD MEDAL SEPARATORS,
GAAR, SCOTT & CO'S
PORTABLE ENGINES.

We introduced these Separators and Engines in California, during the season of 1873, and with unprecedented success. In ever case they gave the best of satisfaction, and were shown to be far superior to the machines before used—doing better work, cleaning the grain better, and saving more than the even so called "Standard" machines of the Coast. The Engines were shown to possess great power, and to be much easier to handle, and better in every way. For 1875 we offer them, with all the necessary improvements to fully adapt them to the Coast, as Machines superior to any other. ☞ Send for Special Circular.

Vibrator Threshers,
Pitts' Horse Powers,
Carey Horse Powers,
Tread Horse Powers,
Self-Feeders for Threshers.

MOLINE WIND-MILLS!

SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

The "TRADE ENGINE."

WAGONS!

We are Sole Agents for California and Nevada for the Celebrated

"Schuttler Wagons"

—AND THE—

"Challenge Spring Wagon!"

WHICH HAVE NO SUPERIORS.

☞ We solicit orders from all wanting our goods, assuring them of fair prices, good goods and liberal terms.

Democratic County Convention.

At a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee of Yolo County, held at the Court House in Woodland, on Saturday, the Eighth day of May, 1875, it was

Resolved, That a County Convention of the Democracy meet at Woodland on Saturday, June 26th, 1875,

To elect SEVEN DELEGATES to represent the Democracy of Yolo County in the Democratic State Convention, to be held in San Francisco on the TWENTY-NINTH DAY OF JUNE, 1875, and also in the Third Congressional District Democratic Convention.

Resolved, That the vote polled for J. W. Bost in 1873, for State Harbor Commissioner, be adopted as the basis of representation in said Convention, and that each Precinct be allowed one Delegate for the Precinct, one for every twenty-five votes cast for J. W. Bost at said election, and one delegate for every fraction of twenty-five over twelve.

The following are the number of Delegates to which the Precincts are entitled :

FOUND DEAD. — Lorenz Henrich, foreman for A. H. Carroll & Co., on their vine ranch in Capay Valley this county was found dead on his couch in the cellar upon the premises on the evening of the 17th inst. by the workmen engaged on the farm. Word was sent to Deputy Coroner Tucker who proceded to the premises and removed the remains to the coffin rooms of P. Krellenberg, in Woodland, and on Saturday the 19th held an inquest. From the inquisition it was ascertained that deceased was a native of Alsace, Germany, about fifty-four years of age, and we learn that there still survives him an aged mother in the Fatherland. The post mortem examination of the remains was held by Drs. Mehring and Jackson who pronounced that he died of heart disease.

We notice in last week's Democrat an apology saying : "the Democrat is not what it ought to have been owing to the indisposition of the editor." That surely must be a mistake as it was, without doubt, the best number published for some weeks. The apology, however, was not very complimentary to the "sub," now, was it neighbor?—Mail.

Unfortunately for the point the Mail attempts to make, there was no "sub" in the question. A writer who is naturally malicious, however, has no more sympathy for a man with his right arm in a sling from an unavoidable cause than for the verriest scoundrel who walks the street. Hence the above malicious fling.

FREEMAN ON THE DOWN GRADE.—The Major seems to be descending the political ladder with frightful velocity. A few weeks ago he would have nothing but Governor; next we hear of him as a candidate for Secretary of State; then for Controller; and now that the Convention has met, and passed away, "Frank" has come home to run for the Assembly. He has found a place at last where he can be a candidate, but nothing more. If we mistake not, the people of Yolo have had quite enough of his legislation on "Freights and Fares."

THE ALLEGHANIANS.—This universally popular troupe of Vocalists, Bell-Ringers, etc., advertise to perform at Washington Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. This troupe is first-class in every particular, and we doubt not will be greeted by immense audiences here, as they are wherever they go. We shall look forward with much pleasure to this choice entertainment, and feel sure that all who attend will be abundantly paid for their time and money. See advertising columns.

SERIOUS ACCIDENTS.—A few days since W. M. Jackson fell from the roof of his new house to the ground about 25 feet, and broke a thigh bone; he was otherwise severely brused. The fall was caused by slipping on the roof and having nothing to hold to; he is doing as well as could be expected. On Wednesday last, J. H. Leland, while building a barn east of town, fell from the top of it to the ground and sustained a serious injury to his spine. It is not yet known how serious the injury will prove.

NEW AD.—We call attention to the new advertisement of F. M. Hall, one of the most enterprising men in this community. Mr. Hall is always anxious to accommodate patrons and sell his wares at reasonable prices.

WOOD'S MAGAZINE.—The June number is just received; its contents are pleasing and acceptable. Illustrated; $1 a year; single copies, 10c; by the Household Publishing Company, 41 Park Row, New York.

BAPTIST PREACHING. — Dr. A. S. Worrell, of Vacaville, will preach at the Christian Church at this place on Saturday June 26th, at 12½ P. M., and Sunday morning at the Court House at 11 A. M.

NEW SIDEWALK.—A. Alexander, of the White House, has laid down a substantial new side walk in front of his elegant store on Main street.

Infamous Journalism.

As is its custom whenever an opportunity offers to misrepresent a political opponent, the Yolo Mail made Lieut.-Governor Irwin's visit to this place an occasion for wilfully libelling and misrepresenting that honorable gentleman's character and record as a public man in its next issue. So maliciously false were the statements of the Mail that Mr. Irwin, who is one of the most prominent Democratic candidates before the people for Governor of California, was compelled to publish a card, which we give elsewhere, refuting the slander, and stating his true position. The San Francisco Post, in which this card was first published, said in the same issue :

"The Yolo Mail, one of the few interior organs of the so-called Independent party, publishes this week a column of lies, which it credits to Lieutenant Governor Irwin in the form of an interview," etc.

Under the heading "Impudent Outrage," the Sacramento Herald characterized the Mail thus :

"The Yolo Mail of last week was guilty of perpetrating a malicious interviewing outrage. It pretended that its editor had interviewed Lieutenant Governor Irwin, and published what purported to be a conversation between him and the editor of the Mail. Irwin was made to say, among other things, that at the last session of the Legislature he had prepared a bill regulating freights and fares on railroads in accordance to the wishes of Governor Stanford, and that Stanford had promised to help those who helped him. Irwin is a candidate for Governor * * * The unblushing mendacity of the Mail man may be understood when we state that Irwin has published a letter in which he asserts positively that he never exchanged a word on any subject with the editor or any other person connected with that paper. It is such unscrupulous acts as this on the part of the Mail, that tend to bring journalism into contempt, hence we feel that we cannot censure it too severely. A false story is fabricated out of whole cloth and published for the sole purpose of injuring a respectable gentleman, and to indulge in a natural "lust for lying" inherent in the fabricator. * * * We have every reason to believe that Mr. Irwin did not, during that session, exchange a word with Governor Stanford, except in public, on the subject of freights and fares, or upon any other subject. With Mr. Irwin's candidacy we have no sympathy, but we do protest against downright and willful lying on the part of any journal for the purpose of misrepresenting and injuring any candidates before the people, or for any purpose whatever." * * *

But this is not all. The Union-Record, speaking of the Mail's article as "An Abominable Slander," goes on to say :

"We print elsewhere a card from Lieut.-Governor Irwin, exposing one of the dirtiest and most disreputable outrages ever perpetrated by a journal on the Pacific coast. The Yolo Mail, a wretched little weekly publication, without patronage, merit, or any adequate reason for existence, seems to have been casting about, in its sordid apology for a mind, for some means of acquiring notoriety; and being incapable of attracting attention to itself in any decent way, hit upon the kind of expedient likely to occur to a sneak thief under similar circumstances. It published what purported to be an "interview" with Governor Irwin, in which he was represented as stating that he made a pact with Stanford to defeat anti-railroad legislation at the last session of the Legislature. That the whole thing was a tissue of falsehood was indeed patent on its face, for no man in the possession of his senses would or could have admitted what was imputed to Mr. Irwin. * * * We trust our contemporaries everywhere throughout the State will lend the knave a hearty lash in passing. * * * The statutes afford abundant protection against abuses of this kind, and if such a reckless libeler was sent to jail for six months (as he assuredly would be by any Californian jury), the practice of which Governor Irwin has so much reason to complain, would speedily be abandoned, even by those whose sense of decency is insufficient to keep them from infamy."

Charity might suggest that we should refrain from exposing this great wrong done by a neighbor to an honorable and eminent gentleman. But our object is to defend the right. Justice could not be appeased otherwise. The man who a short time ago voluntarily wrote himself down "an ass," is now condemned by public opinion and the press as a journalistic falsifier.

NEW LANDLORDS.—The American Exchange Hotel has changed hands, Mr. Furnis retiring and Messrs. Cootes & Lanktree, of San Francisco succeeding him; Mr. Cootes, an experienced and popular landlord, residing at and taking charge of the Hotel. We are quite sure this already popular Hotel will continue to grow in favor with the public under the new management, and have no hesitation in recommending the resident and traveling public to the well-managed house of Mr. Cootes.

JAPANESE PRESENTS. — Mr. L. F. Machefert, druggist, of Yokohama, Japan, lately made his brother, L. Machefert, jeweler, etc., of this place, the recipient of several very unique articles of Japanese manufacture as follows: An ancient little clock of peculiar construction, said to be very scarce; a watch chain, daisy pattern, called the Flower of Mikado; a pair of bronze sleeve-buttons, National Dragon pattern; another pair of buttons, fine carved ivory, representing a Japanese family; an ivory mounted silk fan also richly carved.

THE BLIND TROUPE.—The concert of this company last Saturday evening went off very satisfactorily. All the members of the troupe are thorough musicians and execute well whatever they attempt. They have started on a tour of the Southern counties, making Alameda their starting point. We bespeak for these afflicted musicians kindly words from our brethren of the press and the liberal patronage of the public.

WOODLAND DELEGATES. — At the primary election in this place on Saturday last the following unexceptional list of delegates were elected to represent Woodland in the Democratic County Convention which occurs on Saturday, June 26th: W. B. Gibson, F. Bullard, J. A. Douglas, Joseph Harlan, Jason Watkins, James Viers, M. G. Lee, C. W. Bush, John Tuckney, M. Steinmetz, Sam Haines, John Lambert, J. C. Ball, G. W. Bentley.

EAGLE MILLS.—Messrs. Arnold & Co. will take charge of these well known Knight's Landing flouring mills on the first prox. Mr. Arnold has for several years been a proprietor of the Woodland Mills where he has established an enviable reputation as a first-class miller and genial gentleman. We commend Messrs. Arnold & Co. to our friends at the Landing.

SCIENCE OF HEALTH.—The July number commences Vol. VII. of this instructive monthly, its various articles, from able and practical pens, treat upon the true science of health, including proper care and preparation of food, ventilation, etc.; the masses should read it; price, 20 cents; by the year, $2. Address S. R. Wells & Co., 737 Broadway, New York City.

FINE POTATOES.—Mr. R. B. Blowers has left with us a sample of early rose potatoes, raised by our old friend J. Q. Day, on his ranch in Tulare county. Mr. Day has the advantage of seepage irrigation, and having the best kind of soil, everything he plants yields very bountifully. The potatoes are certainly very fine. Alfalfa and wheat yield immense crops.

AUCTION SALE.—The will be an auction sale of family groceries, clothing, boots and shoes, hats, gents' furnishing goods, and a large assortment of miscellaneous articles, at Davisville, on Saturday, July 3d, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., to close out the entire stock of J. C. Melvin & Co. on account of illness of the resident proprietor. Sale positive.

TROTTING RACE — A trotting race will come off over Geo. Ellis' track on the 3d of July, mile heats best three in five to harness and to rule, with the following entries: Buchanan enters g m Lola, Geo. Ellis enters b m known as Dutchman, J. G. Cole enters b g Julius Cæsar.

DURANG'S RHEUMATIC REMEDY.—Presidential Mansion, Washington, D. C., April 23, 1875. Messrs. Helphenstine & Bentley—Gents: For the past seven years my wife has been a great sufferer from rheumatism, which at times assumed a very malignant form, and for days and nights deprived her of rest. Several months ago our attention was called to DURANG'S RHEUMATIC REMEDY, and after giving it a trial, using three bottles in all, she was freed from pain and a permanent cure effected. I am glad to be able to make the above statement in reference to your wonderful remedy, three bottles of which will, in my opinion, cure any case of rheumatism on the face of the earth. Yours truly, WM. H. CROOK, Executive Clerk to President Grant. H. C. KIRK & CO., Wholesale Agents, Sacramento Cal. je18

Health the Source of Happiness.

The relaxation of the nervous system, which creates an indisposition to mental or bodily action is of very frequent occurrence. It is found that a torpid liver, debilitated stomach or deranged bowels are the great causes. For years DR. HENLEY'S CELEBRATED L. X. L. BITTERS has been successfully used throughout the United States, as an unfailing restorative and health-giving medicine—restoring and invigorating those organs to their original strength. It has never failed to restore to health and reinvigorate the whole system. Dyspepsia, indigestion and loss of appetite, general debility, rheumatism, fever and ague, disappear with its use. As a medicine for diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, it is without an equal. They are composed of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, medicated with the extracts and juices of the most effective tonic, and will prove a safeguard against the attacks of dispepsia and liver complaint. ap16-3m

An Invaluable Traveling Companion.

Change of climate, water or diet is apt to induce harrassing and often dangerous diseases. The three changes combined are fatal to thousands of emigrants every year. Is it not, then, of the last importance to know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are an absolute preventive of the hurtful consequences arising from these causes? Travelers, voyagers and emigrants to new countries cannot be too often reminded of the fact that this agreeable vegetable tonic is the most reliable safeguard against disorders to which they are far more liable than the habitual denizens of healthy regions. The primal effect of the unwholesomie atmosphere which produces what are called malarious fevers; is to depress and debilitate the system. The body then becomes an easy prey to the malignant principle in the air. It is manifest, therefore, that the surest way to avoid all epidemic and endemic maladies of an intermittent type, is to counteract the weakening tendencies of miasma by artificial invigoration. That Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the surest resuscitant of flagging vigor, is a fact which is best appreciated Winter influences inimical to health exist. But it is not alone against malaria that they protect the system. They so toughen it as to enable it to endure with impunity extremes of heat and cold to which travelers are often subjected, and they neutralize those elements in unaccustomed water or diet which would otherwise beget disorders of the stomach and bowels. The brackish water by which voyagers by sea are often compelled to quench their thirst, is apt to provoke dysentery and other serious complaints, but when the Bitters are mixed with it, it becomes harmless. Truly this great protective invigorant is an invaluable traveling companion. je1

It is Asserted as a Fact

That every canvasser who has turned his attention to the introduction of the New Family Sewing Machine in his locality, or who has been fortunate enough to secure an agency, has outstripped the best efforts in making money of the old and tried Agents of the high-priced machines, which latter they now replace. The demand is enormous, and sales so rapid and money made so readily with so little effort that Farmers, Tradesmen, Speculators, &c., are flocking into the business as fast as they can secure territory and get their goods on the ground to supply anxious customers. It is marvelous how these machines sell when exhibited, it being a recognized fact that people will buy the best at the lowest price. It certainly is the Machine of the times and does the same work as other Machines at $80.00 or $90.00, and we really believe it would sell just as readily at double, and then not cost half the usual price of so good an article, for it is astonishing to see the vast amount of labor it performs at so low a cost. The inventors are daily inundated with testimonials of the worth of their new Machines which so suddenly and successfully bounded into popular favor. It proves to be just what is wanted every day, by every one, everywhere, who has a family. It has attained an enviable reputation in many thousands of homes and factories, for its solid strength, power, rapidity, simplicity, certainty, and ease of operation with extreme beauty, fineness and reliability of its sewing; while the wonderful low price (Twenty Dollars for a Large and complete Sewing Machine with a strong table and treadle), places all idea of competition entirely out of the question. It stands alone in its merits and price. We advise you to invest in one at once for your Wife, Daughter, Mother, Sister or Lady Friend and make a home happy, or put them in your factory, or what is, better if you are lucky enough, secure an agency, if there is none in your town, and make money yourself. The many new attachments for doing extra fine, skilful and difficult work, are a surprise in their simplicity of construction and far below even "grange prices," and will be delivered safe at your door, no matter how remote you may reside, if you write for them. Clouds.

BY WM. W. STONE.

Crowning the hillside and set in the sky,
Lighting the wayside and pleasing the eye;
Deep flosses of gold with a silvery sheen,
Bathed in the sunlight in splendor are seen.

Yearning for treasures so dear to the eye,
Envying Nature what gold cannot buy,
Out in the distance the anxious heart leads,
Drawing us onward though fainting foot bleeds.

What care we for hunger, for thirst, or for sleep?
Once in the fleecy clouds, covered up deep,
Wrapt round in robes that angels might wear,
What reck we of trouble palaced in air?

We cannot forget of earth we are made,
Yet cannot but hope in yon golden glade,
To find in its glory the Valley of Truth,
To bathe and renew in the Fountain of Youth.

Clambering the hillside and nearing our prize,
With arms wide outstreteeed embracing the skies;
Fondly expecting a region of light,
Exhausted we gain the coveted height.

On! death-dealing hope with serpent-like eye!
Why live ye to mock at what's born but to die?
Our golden-dyed fleece, our haven, our goal,
Pressed to the breast, strikes a chill to the soul.

So, hopes that are set on treasures of earth,
Oft robbed of their splendor, are strangled at birth;
Like clouds that are tinged with heaven's purest gold,
We grasp them to find them of earth's basest mold.

General Items.

A "lady horse-thief" is the latest in the wondrous West.

Gilroy is to have a brass band, composed of four ladies and four gentlemen.

President Grant has gone to Philadelphia to inspect the centennial grounds and buildings.

There was a slight earthquake shock at Cobb Mountain, Wednesday night.

The sale of soda water is falling off all over the country, and the sale of lager beer increasing.

The Marysville section of the California Pacific is being rebuilt. Work was begun on the 17th.

The Empress of Japan cautions her young lady friends about "talking loudly on the street, like the vulgar American girls."

The ladies of Visalia have been passing a petition around to influence the City Council to raise the liquor license to $100 per quarter.

John G. Daniels shot his wife and then himself at Lowell, Masschusetts, on Saturday. Both will probably die. Jealousy and drink on his part led to the deed.

It is said that Donald McKay of Modoc fame, is living on public charity in Boston. Meacham is in New York, his Modoc show having proved a failure.

Venice has a women's paper entitled La Donna. Its editor is a young woman of twenty-three, very clever, and who is said to be entirely self educated.

Only think of it. There is now en route for San Francisco, via Cape Horn, from the ports of Boston and New York, five thousand nine hundred and eighty barrels of whisky.

In August, 1827, Mrs. Mary Church, of Newport, Rhode Island, deposited $30 in a savings bank. In 1861 she drew $50, and a week ago found $360 01 to her credit.

An American spiritualist named Ferman, who professed to photograph deceased persons, has just been convicted in Paris of swindling and sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

A naval force with steam launches is to be ordered to the mouth or the Rio Grande to look after our interest there and co operate with the army in the suppression of Mexican raids.

The boys of Hollister, under 18 years old, are now prohibited from outdoor exercise after 8:30 P. M., from March 20th to October 20th, and after 8 o'clock P. M. during the balance of the year.

A shooting match between the Dublin rifle clubs at long range, for a challenge cup, in which the American riflemen participated, took place yesterday and was won by Rigby, of the Irish team.

The Sonoma and Marin Railroad Company have advertised for sealed proposals for grading their road through Sonoma county, from Petaluma to San Antonio creek. Bids will be received up to the 19th.

Our dispatches this afternoon bear the startling intelligence that the Beecher trial is to be reopened, and to admit of evidence, which unless it can be shown to be suborned, will leave no possibility of defense.

Two men in Virginia City got into a discussion on the Brooklyn business the other day and had a fight. It may be some gratification to Tilton to know that the man who sided with Beecher got licked.

The St. Louis Times says that ex-Senators Lyman Trumbull and J. C. Dooolittle are now both straight-out Democrats, and that the Germans of Chicago, led by Hessing and Raster, have joined the Democracy.

The Pendleton (Oregon) Tribune says the crickets are doing serious damage to a few farmers on Butter creek. Mr. Doherty has lost twelve acres of grain already, and the crickets still keep coming. As yet, however, they are confined to a small piece of territory.

The Moscow Gazette says: "England having declined to enter into intimate relations with Russia until the Central Asian States are placed under the protection of international law, Russia has no reason to leave the alliance of the three empires and enter into a league with that country."

J. C. News, who succeeds General Spinner as Treasurer of the United States the 1st of July, is expected at Washington on the 25th instaut, when arrangements will be made for the actual count of all the money on hand. It is believed ten or fifteen experienced counters can perform the work in one week.

The farmers in the region around Vallejo have received considerable damage from the rain. Hay and grain stacks have been wetted to the depth of three or four feet, and cattle feed prospects for the ensuing year are poor, on account of the seeds, etc., upon which stock depend in great part for sustenance, being all rotted or sprouted.

The Lake county Bee (Democratic) thinks the Republican ticket "powerful weak," and says: "It will be admitted by all parties that since the wardrobe scene, so intimately connected with the Republican Gubernatorial nominee, there has not been in Sacramento so laughable a farce as this late Republican State Convention."

Chavez is reported as certainly seen at the Lievre rancho, Los Angeles county, last week, and clearly identified, with only one companion. He came in and asked for and was furnished with supplies. One gun was all that could be mustered to opposed the gentleman's friendly visit, and it was decided to let him depart without attempting his capture.

The Uraguayan bark Puig has arrived at Charleston, bringing sixteen refugees from the Uraguayan Republic, among whom were four sons of General Flores, who was assassinated in 1868. The refugees consist of journalists' deputies, one Senator and several army officers. This is the party which tried to land at Havana, but was refused permission.

The work of surveying the gulf and coast of Lower California has been completed, and the Narraganset is now en route for San Francisco, though she may be detained at La Paz, in consequence of the revolution there. The Narraganset has been engaged upon this survey for more than a year, and Commander Dewey reports that the work has been very satisfactory.

The Solano Democrats have appointed E. Mcttettigan, John F. Dare, Geo. A. Lamont, W. J. Dobbins, J. H. Barrett, J. C. Wolfskill, W. Hawkings and B. B. Jackson as delegates to the State and Congressional Conventions. They are instructed to vote for R. C. Haile, for Lieutenant Governor, and J. K. Luttrell for Congress.

One of the disadvantages of dying and being in two places at the same time is shown in the case of the late Judge Edmonds. Mrs. Tappan, in London, and Mrs. Conant, in Boston, simultaneously delivered addresses by the deceased Judge, which were so utterly conflicting in substance that the ardent believer is compelled to admit that somebody lies. That somebody is the inevitable evil spirit.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulceration of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & Co.,

LOWELL, MASS.,

PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE

FOR THE WHISKERS!

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.
